

JOIN THE 2019 DSY SUMMER INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

In the Development School for Youth (DSY), young people experience the business world through a series of rigorous, high-level workshops and trainings, and learn to perform as professionals.

Graduates of the workshop series are then placed in paid summer internships where they continue to develop their leadership and professional skills and connect to the world of success.

DSY is a core program of the national All Stars Project. The All Stars Project mission is to transform the lives of youth and poor communities using the developmental power of performance in partnership with caring adults.

“What All Stars is doing—in an amazingly successful way—is giving young people many of those basic building blocks to let them be dynamic, productive, forward thinking members of our society; to introduce them to parts of our world that they have little connection to—the impenetrable business environment, or a world where they just don’t feel confident interacting with people who look quite different from them. All Stars is about breaking down barriers that can trap people their whole lives.”

— Peter A. Langerman, CEO, Franklin Mutual Advisers LLC

ENDORSEMENTS

“There is a different kind of poverty that I think the All Stars is uniquely combating right now which is what we would call relational poverty. Relational poverty is something that is sweeping through the country and, if not addressed, is actually a greater threat to our communities and the U.S. than what we’ve seen. It doesn’t matter how wealthy you are or how impoverished you are, we’re all experiencing a sense of relational poverty, in which we do not really know how to interact with each other. I think All Stars plays a critical role across the country in bridging the gap of how we relate to one another.”

CEO, Hunt Consolidated Energy, LLC

“We sponsored multiple Development School for Youth (DSY) interns through our office in Jersey City with great success, and we were happy to expand our participation in Dallas. It was a very rewarding experience, not just for the interns, but for our associates who worked with these interns as well. Watching these students grow over a short course of six weeks was amazing, particularly watching their confidence grow as they met their tasks with success, bonded with our associates who provided them support, and resulted in great accomplishments for all that participated and for our company. We are looking forward to being a participant for many years to come.”

— HARRY D. FACHER
SVP, Fidelity Investments

“The All Stars Project is truly unique in terms of its multi-tier approach to our youth. It utilizes free talent shows to work with kids in their actual communities—building trust at the grass-roots level first and foremost. It builds on the trust gained through these talent shows, bridging them into a development program aimed at providing hundreds of student’s confidence, business skills, and positive business opportunities, such as paid summer internships. To see these kids transform from being quiet and insecure into being expressive and confident is nothing short of remarkable. I am honored to be a part of the process.”

— MICHELLE HARTMANN
Principal, Baker McKenzie

“The All Stars is a humbling and positive life-changing organization. There are deep discussions on how to improve the relationship between police and youth in our community and the All Stars provides a unique opportunity for police to have a direct and positive healing impact with the youth who need us most. The organization creates positive change with the youth in our community and helps create a stronger city of Dallas. All Stars give an opportunity to demonstrate citizenship in serving others, build better relationships, and be the positive role model in the course of child’s life. I encourage you to be the positive change in a student’s life and be part of something invaluable to our youth, community, and our city.”
