

ALL STARS PROJECT OF CHICAGO

DEVELOPMENT SCHOOL FOR YOUTH™

A PROGRAM OF ALL STARS PROJECT, INC.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Development School for Youth (DSY) is a program of All Stars Project, Inc. which operates in six cities across the country and partners with hundreds of companies and thousands of professional volunteers each year. In the DSY, young people ages 16-21 learn to perform as professionals and partner with business leaders who conduct workshops and provide paid summer internships.

Young people meet once a week for 14 weeks, navigating downtown Chicago to travel to a different corporate-site for a volunteer-led workshop. Young people practice and develop networking and interview skills, learn to dress professionally, create a professional resume and build dozens of relationships with diverse business leaders. Those who graduate from the program are eligible for a paid summer internship.

WHAT MAKES ALL STARS DIFFERENT?

- Each All Stars program uses performance, onstage and off, to address, and reverse, the ways that poverty stunts development and limits opportunities in life.
- We reach ordinary young people — our programs are not just for the “best and brightest”. There are no academic requirements to join All Stars programs.
- Our programs are offered free of charge to young people and families who participate.
- We are 100% privately-funded and driven by volunteer involvement.

RECRUITMENT

We reach young people directly at public schools, on street corners, at public housing complexes and community centers and through word of mouth. Participation in the program is completely voluntary, and we relate to young people as decision makers and leaders. There is no GPA requirement to participate in the DSY. This is a program for ordinary young people who want to grow and develop.

*and more than 150 other leading corporate partners nationally

HOW TO PARTNER WITH US

1 GET INVOLVED AND VOLUNTEER!

Join our dedicated, passionate supporters who come from a wide range of industries, backgrounds and neighborhoods. We offer both group and individual involvement opportunities. Types of Development School for Youth volunteer opportunities include:

Corporate Workshops Host a group of DSY students at your office to learn more about your company, industry and personal background. Guide the DSY students in the development of their professional skills in public speaking, how to “dress for success”, resume-writing and interview skills.

Networking Events Engage a group of DSY students during networking sessions and teach them how to connect and communicate with business professionals in a formal setting. Great for group volunteer outings!

Mock Job Interviews Host a mock job interview for an All Stars young person in your office.

2 HIRE INTERNS THIS SUMMER!

Each summer, nearly 400 All Stars graduates are placed at paid summer internships at over 150 corporate partner companies, large and small, representing diverse industries including real-estate, finance, technology, law and more.

INTERNSHIP REQUIREMENTS

- Internships run for 6 weeks in the summer from June 24, 2019 to August 2, 2019
- Minimum salary is $14/hour, paid directly to the intern
- $750 per-intern sponsorship fee/donation to All Stars in support of program quality and placement
- Internship supervisors attend an experiential training at All Stars to orient them to the DSY's performance-based approach and share best practices for structuring the 6-week internship program
- Total estimated cost per intern: $3,690
- Sample internship job description available upon request

3 BECOME AN ALL STARS SPONSOR!

It costs $5,000 to sponsor one young person to participate in the free DSY program.

During the program, each young person meets and interacts with dozens of adult professional volunteers as they learn to network, build resumes, interview, visit companies and speak with senior leaders, and develop their professional performance. All Stars and DSY are 100% privately funded. Please support the growth and advancement of the DSY by being a financial supporter. Ask us about recognition and class sponsorship opportunities.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

JAMEEL NORRIS

2018 Development School for Youth Alumnus

My internship at Berglund Construction was the career opportunity of a lifetime. It was way different than working at a fast food place. The internship has given me a chance to try new things, save money, and become more mature. I feel like I'm no longer stuck and can do things in the city that I could never do before.

THE HONORABLE SONIA SOTOMAYOR

Associate Justice, Supreme Court of the United States

There are causes that motivate me, that keep me excited about being a judge, and about being a human being. The [Development School for Youth] is one of those programs... As I am growing older, and as I hope to continue making contributions to developing my society, I realize that it's meaningless unless the generation that follows me picks up the battle and continues it. And the battle is... to be better citizens, to be better family members, to be better friends, community members, and to give back to our society and make it better for everyone. This program, I believe, does that.

GREG MUTZ

Chairman and CEO, AMLI Residential

Many of us in the private sector have done extremely well on a financial basis. We hear a lot about income inequality and how the poor are having real problems generating traction to escape poverty. The Development School for Youth is a critical lifeline for young people from poor and working class backgrounds to be exposed to the business world. The goal is to help these kids see real and tangible possibilities for themselves. For an extremely reasonable investment of time and supervision, you have a chance to actually change some young person's life. If we don't reach out to these young people and give them an opportunity to connect to the mainstream, who will? The government? I don't think so. In my view, it's time for those who fortune has favored to step up and make an investment in some aspiring young person's life. The investment returns can truly be astonishing."
