The programs strive to build and sustain communities through dialogue, community building events, education and empowerment with a focus in race relations and racial unity. FIFTH ANNUAL BUILDING BRIDGES ACROSS DALLAS LUNCHEON

The All Stars Project (ASP) is a 38-year old national nonprofit that uses performance to create exposure and opportunity for our inner-city youth and their families. ASP reaches over 20,000 inner-city youth and families across the country through free innovative afterschool development programs in Dallas, Chicago, New York, Newark, Jersey City and the San Francisco Bay Area. Our programs are open to all young people. We visit schools and knock on doors in poor communities and invite everyone to join the All Stars.

ASP OF DALLAS

In 2013, ASP brought afterschool development programs to Dallas to engage the 40% of youth living in poverty. ASP reaches young people from high poverty areas in West Dallas, South Dallas, North Dallas, Vickery Meadow and South Oak Cliff. Our impact over the past year includes:

5,000+
people reached through community outreach

3,100+
volunteer hours donated to our programs

60+
police officers engaging in new conversations with young people

700+

their time and energy to ensure our programs are successful

DEVELOPMENT SCHOOL FOR YOUTH

Through the Development School for Youth (DSY), young people learn the performance of the business world through workshops led by professionals, culminating in 6-week paid internships with our partners in the professional world. Each summer over 400 youth nationwide are placed in internships at our partner organizations.

In Dallas, 57 young people were placed in internship sponsored by 35 companies like Hunt Consolidated, Fidelity Investments, EY and many more.

ALL STARS TALENT SHOW NETWORK

The All Stars Talent Show Network (ASTSN) involves young people, ages 5 – 25, who perform in and produce community talent shows in their neighborhoods. The young people organize their family, friends and community to create a positive and supportive environment where everyone can be successful and thrive.

COPS & KIDS: A NEW PERFORMANCE OF POLICE-COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Cops & Kids: A New Performance of Police-Community Relations is our growing youth and police relationship-building program in partnership with the Dallas Police Department, Police Youth Outreach Unit (YOU), Police Activities League (PAL) and Dallas Independent School District (DISD) Police. The program uses performance to help police and youth create a more positive relationship.
